About the Book

This photo-poetry book comprises a collection of 90 poems that essentially revolve around the monuments of India. The book reflects the author's journeys across India and his experience of the monuments that he has visited in the last 15 years. Each poem has an associated photograph, thus the two complement each other; each combination presented in this book narrates a distinct tale or mood. All photos in this book are taken by him.

About the Author

Janhwij Sharma, an architect by profession, works with the Archaeological Survey of India. He has worked and lectured extensively within India and abroad for matters related to the conservation of monuments and for the World Heritage related issues. Janhwij Sharma is a dilettante photographer and has a huge collection of photographs on the themes of monuments, landscapes and nature. This photo-poetry compilation is his first book as a poet.
